Instituted Against Thaw Today After Inquest Over Stanford White.

MRS. THAW PROMISED TO BE TRUE

Manager Of Madison Square Garden Theatre Testifies, Repeating Words Of Murderer And His Wife.

(Associated Press Bulletin.) New York, June 28, 2:30 p. m.—The grand jury has returned indictments against Harry K. Thaw, charging him with murder in the first degree. Thaw will plead to the indictments tomorrow.

(By Associated Press.) New York, June 28.—A decision was reached today to the effect that Mrs. Harry K. Thaw will refuse to testify before the grand jury on the grounds that she will plead she should not be made to give any evidence that might be damaging to her husband. Mrs. Thaw asked permission of her husband's counsel to attend the coroner's inquest today and sit by her husband's side, but the request was denied.

New York, June 28.—The coroner's jury today brought in a verdict to the effect that Stanford White came to his death by gunshot wounds inflicted by Harry K. Thaw. The most important testimony toward this decision was given by Lionel Lawrence, the stage director of the Madison Square roof garden theatre.

Mrs. Thaw Promised Fidelity. Witness Lawrence said that immediately after the shooting Mrs. Thaw rushed up to her husband and throwing her arms around his neck said: "Never mind, Harry. I will stick to you through thick and thin."

Thaw Announced Revenge. Thaw turned to the crowd which had surrounded them and said: "That has ruined my wife and I got him fixed for it."

Grand Jury Takes Action. Soon after the close of the inquest proceedings against Thaw were begun before the grand jury.

Mrs. Thaw Visited Husband. Mrs. Thaw entered the grand jury room accompanied by her counsel and remained fifteen minutes. She then went to the Tombs to visit her husband.

HOW ITALY'S LEAF MONOPOLY "WORKS"

Report of Consul Castro at Rome Shows Advance in Business and Increased Profits.

(Special to the Gazette.) Washington, D. C., June 17.—The department of commerce and labor has received from Consul General Castro at Rome figures on the operation of the tobacco monopoly of the Italian government, showing the same relative advance in business and profits as the French monopoly had made according to a recent report by Consul Skinner at Marseille.

Mr. Castro says the total revenue of the Italian monopoly during the fiscal year 1904-5 amounted to $45,071,322; while the expenses were $9,759,982 and the value of the stock employed $58,229, leaving a net profit of $34,343,610, showing an increase of $1,685,167 over the preceding year. Mr. Castro says these results are most encouraging and surpass all expectations, considering especially that there were sold in the country for domestic consumption during the period 981,022 pounds of manufactured tobacco and 147,406 pounds exported in excess of last year, which should have increased the cost of manufacturing by about $465,600, while the expenditures were only about $242,500 over the preceding year. Mr. Castro says that although the average amount of tobacco consumed annually per individual has increased by eleven grams it is still much lower than during 1886-7, the year after the change of tariff, during which time the average consumption of tobacco was 558 grams per capita. The increase of revenue in 1904-5 was 5 cents per inhabitant and the net profit was 7 cents per capita. On a population of thirty-three million this means a revenue of $2,300,000, with reduction of $360,000 in the expenses sustained during the year 1886-87; and this notwithstanding an important raise in the salaries and the institution of a pension fund for the workmen, which last item absorbs annually about $180,000.

YALE WINNER OF RACES IN REGATTA WITH OLD HARVARD

Both Freshman Eight and Four-Oar Races Taken by the Blue—Ideal Weather Conditions.

(By Associated Press.) New London, June 28.—Weather conditions for the Yale-Harvard boat race on the Thames today were splendid. A cool and refreshing breeze blew down the river and the water was almost without a ripple. A great crowd was in attendance. The first race was between Yale and Harvard freshman eights over a course of two miles. Yale won. Time—10:35, Harvard—10:41.

Yale also won the varsity fours. The distance was two miles upstream and they finished over eight lengths ahead of Harvard. Yale's time—11:56.35; Harvard—12:14.

New London is rejoicing in its annual college outing. The town, as usual, is decorated impartially in blue and crimson, and everywhere on the streets are shouting masses of students. It is generally conceded that the three races, varsity eight, varsity four, and freshman eight, will be the most closely contested events in years, although popular opinion this morning slightly favors Yale in the varsity race. Even Harvard men admit that endurance alone will pull out the race, and it is upon this that Yale's hopes are chiefly based. At the same time the Harvard supporters appear confident of the result of the big race and a large amount of money is sure to change hands after the event.

History of Races. For fifty-four years, with occasional intervals, the crews of Harvard and Yale have battled, the rival colors having been borne during all those years by four, six, and eight oared crews. In the forty races that have been rowed, since the initial contest in 1852, five points now separate the contending universities, Yale having won twenty-two races and Harvard seventeen.

During the early years of the contests the events were rowed on Lake Quinsigamond. In 1873, however, the event was held on the Thames, and with the exception of three years since that time the event has been an annual fixture and on the Thames course. Lake Quinsigamond was abandoned as the place for holding the races in 1869, and in the following year the crews met at Lake Salton, stall. The next year Springfield was chosen for the event, and after that came the Thames of New London.

Early in the history of the event it was rowed over a two-mile course, which was increased to three miles in 1855. Again the distance was increased in 1876, this time to four miles, which has been the length of the varsity races ever since. Yale holds the record for this distance, having covered the course in 1883 in twenty minutes, ten seconds. Harvard's last victory was in 1899, since which time Yale has had six successive victories.

The occasion is the annual state convention of the Christian Endeavorers, which is holding forth in the First Presbyterian church. A large attendance and an interesting program combine to give promise of a successful gathering. President H. F. Lowe of Falls church is presiding and the speakers include General Secretary Von Ogden Vogt, Rev. James I. Vance, D. D., and others of wide prominence.

Illinois Endeavorers. Danville, Ill., June 28.—Many delegates are here for the state convention of the Epworth League, which opens with a welcome meeting to night. The sessions will continue until next Monday. Bishop Bashford and other noted Methodists are listed among the speakers.

Wireless Conference Postponed.

Berlin, June 28.—The international wireless telegraph conference which was to have assembled in Berlin today has been postponed until October. The postponement is expected to insure the attendance of all the principal countries of Central and South America.

CHAUTEAU OF VIZILLE SOLD UNDER HAMMER

Ancient And Historic Castle Near Paris, Lately Used As Hotel, Disposed Of At Auction.

(Special to the Gazette.) Paris, June 28.—The famous Chateau of Vizille, situated southeast of Grenoble, was put up for sale at public auction today. It was in one of the halls of this castle that the deputies met on July 21, 1788, and hastened the revolution by demanding the conviction of the states general. The property was long in possession of the Gissimier-Perrier family. A few years ago it was bought by an English syndicate and has since been used as a hotel and club.

PASSED SEVENTIETH BIRTHDAY IN QUIET

Lyman J. Gage, Great Financier And Member Of The McKinley Cabinet, Reaches Advanced Age.

(Special to the Gazette.) New York, June 28.—Lyman J. Gage, who has made this city his home since his retirement from President McKinley's cabinet, was seventy years old today. Mr. Gage, who some time ago retired from the presidency of the United States Trust company and has now practically severed his connection with all business, is prepared to take things easy for the remainder of his days. The venerable financier's retirement is well earned as few men have had a more active career in business or financial pursuits. Beginning as an office boy in a bank in Oneida, N. Y., Mr. Gage rose until he became president of the First National Bank of Chicago, one of the greatest financial institutions in the country. He was three times president of the American Bankers' association and served five years as secretary of the United States treasury department.

INDEPENDENTS AND DEMMIES MAY FUSE

Percival W. Clement Will Again Buck Regular Republican Nominee For Governor Of Vermont.

(Special to the Gazette.) Burlington, Vt., June 28.—Percival W. Clement, of Rutland, will be nominated for governor of Vermont at the independent convention of his supporters in session here today, and it is regarded as probable that the nomination will receive the endorsement of the democrats, whose state convention is likewise in session here. Vermont long has been a republican stronghold, but in 1902 Mr. Clement, after being defeated for the nomination for governor in the republican convention, bolted the ticket and ran as an independent, and received only 3,000 votes less in the election than the successful republican candidate. Mr. Clement was not a candidate at the next biennial election, in 1904, but this year he early announced his intention of running as an independent candidate against the republican nominee, Fletcher D. Proctor. Many of the delegates in today's democratic convention are outspoken in favor of William J. Bryan for the presidential nomination.

Former Senator George W. Washburn of Minnesota arrived at New York from London.

STRONG ENDORSEMENT OF BRYAN AND PREACHINGS OF ROBERT LA FOLLETTE

Committee On Resolutions Reports To Wisconsin Democratic Convention After All-Night Session.

(By Associated Press.) Milwaukee, Wis., June 28.—The democratic platform as prepared by the committee on resolutions after an all-night session which was presented to the convention as a whole today for ratification strongly endorses William Jennings Bryan as the democratic candidate for president in 1908. Among other things the platform demands the enforcement of statutes against all trusts, combinations and monopolies and favors a revision of the present tariff schedules, calls for the election of United States senators by a direct vote, and for government control and regulation of all public service corporations. On state matters the report favors a law conferring upon municipalities the power to regulate all public service corporations; favors a two-cent per mile maximum passenger railroad rate; endorses taxation on the ad valorem basis and demands amendments to the primary election law.

Bryan Much Applauded. The convention at 12:40 took a recess until 2:30. The platform as presented by the committee on resolutions has been acted upon only partially. When the resolution referring to Bryan was read there was tumult and applause lasting three minutes.

(By Associated Press.) Kansas City, Kas., June 28.—The anti-saloon crusade was renewed today with increased vigor. In addition to destroying stocks of liquor and bar fixtures, C. W. Strickett, the Assistant Attorney General appointed by Governor Hoch to enforce the prohibition law, today threatened to demolish all saloon buildings if the owners persisted in renting their places to joint-keepers.

BOGUS LORD BARRINGTON WILL HANG ON MORROW

Career Of Crime, Which Began At Age Of Seven, Will End On Gibbet In Missouri.

(Special to the Gazette.) St. Louis, Mo., June 28.—After a life of crime beginning in boyhood, "Lord" Frederick Seymour Barrington, society highwayman, resourceful crook, bigamist, forger and murderer, is to pay the penalty of his last crime on the scaffold tomorrow. Arrangements have been completed for the execution in the county jail at Clayton.

The crime for which Barrington is to die on the scaffold was the murder of James P. McCann, a well known sporting man of this city, on June 18, 1905. McCann was shot, his body robbed and his remains thrown into a pond at Bonifils. By a peculiar coincidence, the nude body of the murdered man was discovered floating in the pond just three years ago yesterday.

During the active years of his career "Lord" Barrington was one of the most picturesque figures in "polite" prookdom, for although he was of lowly origin his specialty of passing as a member of the British peerage went well in several cities and helped him to live without work for years.

He was the son of a hack driver in Tunbridge Wells, England, and his real name is F. G. Barton. He was arrested for the first time at the age of seven years when he was caught selling fire to the common. At twelve he was sentenced to five years in the Red Hill reformatory for embezzlement. After serving three years he made his escape by means of a rope, only to be arrested two years later and sentenced for robbery. For this he served in Yorkshire prison.

The clever crook, who had taken to himself the name of Frederick Sydney Barrington, stole securities valued at $50,000 at the age of eighteen, and was sentenced to ten years' penal servitude, but was released on a forged pardon.

About this time he decided it would be to his advantage to give himself a new surrounding by joining the army; here he could observe the ways of the officers who made up much of the English society. This was in his twenty-second year, but before his enlistment was a year old he had forged a thorough flod from the army and committed a burglary for which he did a ten years' stretch.

That completed the English police record. What crimes he succeeded in committing in the short intervals between his prison sentences are not known, but are believed to be many. He got into some of the best households as a servant, studied the members of society he served as an artist, studied his model and in later years made good use of his studies. He robbed a clergyman three times, and each time by a sorrowful profession of repentance and glib quotation succeeded in being forgiven. When he was finally landed behind the bars for the ten years' term in England he settled down to improving his education so he could step out of prison a student. He perfected himself in French, German and the classics and was a polished fraud when he came to America in 1891. He posed here as the son of an English nobleman of wealth and rank.

As such he won Miss Celestine Miller of Brooklyn, an heiress with a fortune in her own right. After marrying Miss Miller, he had the effrontery to return to his own land and established himself with his wife in a home at West Brighton. There he cold-bloodedly told his wife the truth about himself. Stripped of every penny by her husband, the unhappy returned to this country with her child, and Barton was arrested and sent back to prison to serve out an old sentence. As soon as the sentence expired Barton returned to the United States, having found here the best field for his peculiar operations.

In 1902 Philadelphia society received with open arms "Lord Burgoyne" of the English peerage. His lordship was none other than the ex-convict, but before that came to light he had courted and wedded Miss Margaret Rafferty, an heiress. He told her he was heir to $20,000 and borrowed money from her. While they were on their honeymoon "Burgoyne" slipped from the train and disappeared. She would believe nothing against him until she went to New York and learned the truth from his first wife, with whom "Burgoyne" was at the time attempting to effect a reconciliation.

Receiving no notice from his first wife, the ex-convict, who had been wandering in the west, made his debut in St. Louis society under the alias of "Lord Barrington." He met and married Miss Wilhelmina Grace Cochran, of Independence, Iowa, who was visiting in St. Louis at the time. Before he could enjoy the money he had obtained through this marriage a hard-headed brother of Miss Cochran, has uncovered his record and had "Barrington" thrown into prison. Following his exposure Barrington succeeded in winning the confidence of McCann, a wealthy horse owner and hotel man. On the night of McCann's disappearance the two were seen drinking together. The murder was traced to Barrington, and he was convicted. The legal fight to save him from the gallows extended over two years.

NEW LIQUOR LAW

MAY AFFECT SOME

JANESVILLE PECULIARLY SITUATED AS TO RESULTS.

THREE HUNDRED FEET LIMIT

Some Saloons May Be Forced to Move or Go Out of Business As a Result.

The 300-foot liquor license law which goes into effect next Saturday, June 30th, may abolish some of the saloons in this city, for on that day no new licenses may be granted to saloons within 300 feet of any church or school building, city ordinances to the contrary notwithstanding.

Although there are parts of the law which do not affect our city, because we have a special charter, the statute as a whole will have to be complied with. If any saloons are affected in this city it will be those between Academy and High street on Milwaukee that are near the Lincoln School, and those between Jackson and Franklin on Milwaukee Street near the Presbyterian Church.

The new law also regulates the granting of liquor licenses, holding that applications for licenses must be in by June 15, now past. Under the old law applications for licenses were sent to the city clerk's office and sometimes were not received until the last minute, when they were O. K'd by the proper committee and the licenses were rushed through the city council in a bunch.

The intent of the new law is to provide for a special day for receiving and acting upon licenses and gives the public an opportunity to see the applications and protest against the granting of any particular license.

What Law Says.

That portion of the new law which bears particularly upon the granting of liquor licenses reads as follows: "The application for any license shall be in writing, and shall state the kind of license applied for and designate the premises where the liquor shall be sold. All such licenses shall remain in force until the first Tuesday in July next after the granting thereof, unless sooner revoked by the board or the council granting the same; they shall be attested by the board or the council, and shall not be delivered until the applicant shall file with the clerk a receipt showing the payment of the sum required therefor to the proper treasurer, and until the filing with the clerk of the bond provided for in section 1549."

Keep Away From Churches.

From and after June 30, 1906, anything contained in any city charter to the contrary notwithstanding, no such license shall be granted to any person or persons for the sale of any such liquors in any building, booth or other place, for which a license is not in force on the 30th of June, 1906, within a distance of three hundred (300) feet of any public or permanently established parochial school grounds, said distance to be measured for upon the streets from the boundary of such school grounds."

To have a saloon removed a majority of the parents of the pupils which are attending the school which is within 300 feet of the saloon objected to must sign a paper signed and acknowledged by a notary before the license shall be exempted. This law does not apply to hotels, restaurants and drugstores established before Feb. 1, 1905.

Given Two Years to Move.

Saloons which are established at the present time have until July, 1908, to remove their places of residence beyond the 300-foot limit. The law is giving the saloonkeepers plenty of time so that they cannot later come into the courts and claim that the law works a confiscation of their property. Since the passage of the act, however, no new saloons may be established within the 300-foot limit of schools and churches.

New Automobile: Frank Blodgett has just received his new Ford machine. It is a beauty with six cylinders and forty horse-power, making it the largest and most powerful in the city.

Flakes of Dandruff On The Collar And Shoulders Of A Gentleman

In Full Dress.

This is the thing you quite frequently see in the ballroom—a man's black dress-coat literally covered with dandruff.

It must be annoying to the wearer, and certainly not a pleasant thing to observe. But dandruff can be eradicated. It is a germ disease that will come day after day.

Newbro's Herpicide kills the hair-destroying germ, and stimulates the hair to a rich, abundant growth; it does more—it keeps the hair soft and pliant.

Furthermore, Herpicide is a most pleasant toilet accessory; of pleasing odor, and cooling to the scalp.

Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

How hard it is to do easy things in hard ways—and how easy to do hard things in easy ways—such as the want ad way!

Let us help you plan it. We have just issued a booklet containing over eighty different tours, combining rail and water routes to nearly all of the eastern and Michigan resorts. It tells you where to go, how to get there, and what it will cost. Sent to any address upon application to J. S. Willebrand, Wisconsin Pass Agent, 102 Wisconsin St., Milwaukee, Wis.

HARRY M'CHESNEY

WRITES OF BEING

LOST IN DESERT

With Outing Party He Wandered Aimlessly About All One Night—Now Encamped in Wilds Of Oregon.

Harry M'Chesney, son of Dr. and Mrs. E. E. M'Chesney of this city, formerly of Edgerton, and a graduate of the Janesville high school, has written an interesting letter relating his recent experiences on the desert and in the wilds of the state of Oregon. He is now located at Lake Odell, Klamath county, and his epistle is dated from there, June 9. In part it follows:

Lake Odell, June 9, 1906.
My dear parents:

We left our camp on the desert a week ago, last Wednesday and were on the move for a week. Mr. Miller went on ahead two days before we started. For the first three days we did our own cooking. The second day we got lost. No one lives in that country for it is nothing but a desert. We wandered around all day and finally found the right road about eight o'clock at night. We had to keep going in order to find water for we had none with which to cook, nor any for the horses. The third night we found a ranch and it seemed good to see some one who could tell us something about the road. From these people we learned that we had gone nearly fifteen miles out of our way the day before. From this ranch it was nearly a day's drive to Bend; where Mr. Miller was waiting for us.

We arrived in Bend a week ago today and after loading our provisions it was time to retire. We left Bend the next day (Sunday) about noon and after going about fifteen miles stopped at a ranch all night. Bend is a place of two hundred inhabitants I should judge, situated on the Nes Chutes river. It is in thick pine timber and is quite a pretty little place. Before we arrived there we had been driving through the timber for nearly ten miles. It was grand, too, to be riding through those tall pines; some of them nearly 175 feet high and most of them over 100 feet, after having been out in the desert where the largest of the copper trees, the footfalls were not over fifty feet in height. It is a very impressive sight, I think, to see so much and such great, large trees. The second day out from Bend we reached what is called Odell post-office, where we stopped all night. The weather up to this time had been ideal for moving, but during the night it snowed and we awoke in the morning to find nearly two inches of snow on the ground. It was very disagreeable when it melted, dripping off the trees. Then it kept snowing all day, rain alternating with snow.

We had hoped to reach our camping place that day, but about four o'clock in the afternoon, when only two and one-half miles from it, we had to cross a small stream. The lighter loads crossed all right, but when our cook wagon came along it waded down to the hubs. We had to stop here all night and get out and unload most of the load before we could get it out. We finally reached Odell Lake about ten o'clock that morning and had our camp pitched by two o'clock in the afternoon.

Lake Odell is one of the prettiest bodies of water I have seen for a long time, for its size. It is about six miles long and nearly two wide. Surrounded by high mountains, thickly covered with timber, in which you can see the snow, and with the deep blue of the lake, it makes a very pleasing picture. The timber here is mostly spruce, hemlock and tamarack which grows down to the water's edge. The lake is very deep. Mr. Miller and I went out in a boat 100 feet from shore and dropped 275 feet of fish line overboard, and could not touch bottom. The water is too cold for bathing and the lake is not easy enough of access to make it a resort. The fishing could not be better, fine, large trout and pike abounding. One need but to see this lake to become a devoted lover of nature. Deer, bear, elk, prairie dogs and various other kinds of game are to be found here. Yesterday was the first day we worked all day on line, and how it rained. They say it rains up here about every second day. Today has been a fine day. We have two boats, one of them an old skow, practically.

We had to go to the head of the lake this morning and it took us three hours to row up in that old skow. I took my tarpaulin up and we had a fine wind to some home by. Using my tarp for a sail we came back the six miles without rowing at all in an hour and forty-five minutes. Our work is very slow now, so much cutting having to be done. We only average about half a mile a day.

EVANSVILLE CORPS

HOSTESS TUESDAY

Members Of W. R. C. From Oregon, Belleville And Beloit Were Royally Entertained.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Evansville, Wis., June 27.—Tuesday was a gala day for the members of the local Women's Relief Corps. In response to invitations, over one hundred ladies from the Beloit, Belleville and Oregon corps visited in this city. The Broadhead members were invited and expected to attend, but were unable to do so on account of the death of their secretary, Mrs. Rolfe. The Oregon women arrived on the 8:45 a. m. train and were escorted to the G. A. R. hall and were the forenoon in calling on friends, shopping and viewing our little town. The Belleville corps came overland, arriving about eleven o'clock. The Beloit corps, fifty-two in number, arrived on the 12:10 train. All visiting and local members assembled at the G. A. R. hall and at about 12:45 the procession, headed by the local corps of bearers and head officers of the various corps, marched to the Knights of Pythias hall, where a delicious dinner was served. The hall was beautifully decorated with flowers, flags and red, white and blue bunting. During the serving of the dinner H. A. Babcock entertained the guests with selections on his phonograph, and judging from the frequent applause, the ladies were greatly pleased. After the dinner had been served, an interesting program followed. The meeting was called to order by Mrs. Emma Austin, president of the local corps, the presidents and department officers of the visiting corps sitting by her side on the platform. The program opened with the singing of "America," Miss Harris accompanying on the organ. The Beloit corps was the first to respond to the program, and excellent remarks were made by the president, Mrs. Julietta Morris, and by the department treasurer, H. I. Pirolet. Five reports on the state convention, recently held at Marinette, were given by the Beloit delegates, Clara Royce and Emma E. Grinnell, P. D. P. A fine reading was also given by Della Ayers. As Evansville corps did not send a delegate this year the reports of the convention from the Beloit delegates were greatly enjoyed. The Belleville corps responded with a couple of readings, given by the president, Lillian L. Williams, and by Anna Wolloughby, which were well received and heartily endorsed. Mrs. Shampor of the Oregon corps rendered a couple of beautiful vocal solos, and Mrs. Morrison gave a fine reading. The local corps rendered the following selections: Recitation by Amy Richardson, vocal duet by Leta Acheson and Carrie Churm, and reading by Mrs. Adell Harris-Ballard, all of which were well received and applauded. The program closed with the singing of the "Bible Ode" by all the ladies. A rising vote of thanks by the visiting corps was given the local corps for the excellent manner in which all had responded to the local president, Mrs. Austin. The remainder of the afternoon was spent in conversation, luncheon, etc., until the guests departed for their homes. The Beloit delegation being the last to leave, going on the 7:50 p. m. train. As the weather was fine the day proved a gala one for all.

The new tariff goes into effect July 2.

The Canadian Pacific railroad has installed a special cipher wire between Winnipeg and Montreal, for their telegraph system, by means of which two messages—one by telephone and the other by telegraph—can be transmitted over the wire at the same time. The distance exceeds 1,000 miles, and it is claimed to be the greatest distance a human voice has ever been carried over a metallic wire.

Plans have been perfected by the Canadian Pacific to construct a bridge near Lethbridge, Alberta, which will be an engineering marvel and probably will be ranked as one of the world's wonders. The plans call for a structure slightly more than a mile long and 300 feet above the water level. As compared with other bridges of the world, the Brooklyn bridge is no longer and is no more than half as high. The world-famed Tyne bridge in England, which was built by Robert Stephenson fifty years ago, is only half as long and less than half the height.

life.—Dr. Donald Sage Mackay to Rutgers college.

"The evils complained of have come about because, as a people, we have drifted from the old standard of honesty and patient accumulation into a made rush for wealth, for the piling up of enormous fortunes in the shortest possible period of time. We must be brought back to the old moorings, not by violence and unlawful methods, but by calm and inflexible application of law."—Theodore P. Shonts, to Drake university.

"We are cursed by the worship of opportunity."—Mayor McClellan, to Union university.

"The thing to do to raise up competition is to rehabilitate the corporation, to purify it, to restore to it character and responsibility, that the people may come back into the ownership of the country's industrial properties. For until that is done, all opportunity for new or competitive enterprise will be in the hands of those who already have a monopoly of the field."—Judge Peter S. Grosscup, to Chautauqua.

What is the meaning of all this? What does it signify? What does it tell us of the condition of the country? What does it point to in the way of reform and legislation? Are these words merely words signifying nothing? Is it not something worth pondering upon that from so many platforms of so many great universities, thoughts such as these are expressed?

JUNE WEDDING IN GREEN AND WHITE

MISS ANNA DERIERME VALER-TINE AND DR. CHARLES H. SUTHERLAND.

AT CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH

Last Evening Pledged Lifelong Fidelity Before A Multitude Of Friends.

In the presence of several hundred friends assembled in a great auditorium adorned with banks of greens and clusters of meadow flowers, Miss Anna DeRiemer Valentine and Dr. Charles H. Sutherland took their vows last evening. The First Congregational church in the elegant simplicity of its floral garb never presented a scene more attractive to the eye. Under the supervision of Earl A. Gates and Miss Capelle the many gifts of flowers from the members of the congregation had been arranged in a harmonious color scheme of green and white. Immense clusters of daisies, decorated every pew and the little blossoms gleamed in a great bank of palms and oak leaves reared before the pulpit. The entire Sunday school classes of the bride and groom occupied seats with the guests of honor. The ushers, Fred Jeffris of Chicago, W. F. McDowney of Chicago Heights, Allen Lovejoy and Samuel Echlin, were assisted by honorary ushers, Bernard M. Palmer and Edward Peterson.

Preliminary Musical Program.
Guests began to arrive shortly after seven o'clock. Prior to the wedding march Miss Ada Pond, organist, played the Pilgrim's Chorus from Tannhauser. Edward Holmes of Chicago, violinist, played with the accompaniment of the organ. "The Evening Star" by Tannhauser; and Miss Pond gave a rendition of the familiar and sweet old ballad "Oh Promise Me." Promptly at eight o'clock the opening strains of Lohengrin's Wedding March gave the signal for the beginning of the procession.

The Wedding March.
Dr. Fred Sutherland, master of ceremonies, came first and following him, Fred Jeffris and W. F. McDowney, Allen Lovejoy and Samuel Echlin. The Misses Agnes Shumway, Gertrude Sherman of Milwaukee, Harriet Bostwick and Ella Sutherland, bridesmaids, followed the ushers and after them came the maid of honor, Miss Marla Jackman, and the bride, leaning upon the arm of her father. As the bridal party approached by the south aisle the groom and his best man, Dr. Everett L. Mason of Eau Claire, took their positions in front of the bank of greens. The marriage ceremony pronounced by Rev. R. C. Denison was very brief and simple. But a few moments seemed to elapse before the organ was sounding Mendelssohn's wedding march for the recessional and the slow march had begun resumed along the north aisle of the church.

Description Of The Gowns.
The bride wore a princess gown of satin moiré with a plastron of princess lace, a wedding veil and a wreath of orange blossoms. Her only other adornment was a necklace of rare old pearls left by her Grandmother Valentine to be worn on her wedding day. She carried a shower bouquet of white roses. The maid of honor was attired in a gown of white batiste over green silk, with a wreath of green in her hair. She carried a shower bouquet of white sweet peas and ferns. The bridesmaids wore simple gowns of white with green girdles, and green wreaths. They carried shower bouquets of maiden-hair fern. The bride's mother, Mrs. Richard Valentine, was attired in gray satin, trimmed with duchess lace and the groom's mother, Mrs. Q. O. Sutherland, wore a gown of old rose silk.

Reception At The Home.
At the home of Dr. and Mrs. Q. O. Sutherland on South Second street the bride and groom received their guests under a wedding bell of daisies and ferns. The color scheme which had been carried out in the church prevailed in the beautiful decorations of the residence. Luncheon was served by five members of the Delta Gamma collegiate sorority, the sisterhood to which the bride belonged while a student at the University of Wisconsin, the Misses Louise Merrill, Florence Palmer, Margaret Jackman, Irma Keller and Elizabeth McKee. The gifts were very beautiful and valuable and testified to the love and esteem of hundreds of friends. As the bride ascended the stairway preparatory to taking her departure, she threw the bouquet which she had carried and it was caught by Miss Amy Woodruff. The departure of bride and groom was made under the customary shower of rice. They entered a coach and proceeded by devious ways to the suburban line. After reaching Beloit they took the train for Chicago and tonight they will board a steamship bound for Mackinac Island.

The Visiting Guests.
The guests at the home were relatives and intimate friends of the young couple. There was a large representation of the Phi-Kappa Psi college fraternity of which the groom is a member, as well as the Delta Gamma sorority to which the bride belongs, and long after the departure of the principals the welkin rang with the songs of these Greek letter orders and the universities where they flourish. Out of town guests at the wedding and reception were: Mrs. Edward Holmes of La Grange, Ill.; Herbert Holmes of La Grange, Ill.; Emil Hoffman of Newark, N. J.; Miss Margaret Foxman of Moscow, Ida Wis. George Gill and Henry Sutherland of Madison, Fred Norcross, Geo. Mason, and Fred Jeffris of Chicago, Albert Hayden of Milwaukee, Mrs. Mary Holt Richards of Madison, Miss Leonore Meinhardt of Burlington, Wis., the Misses Gladys and Sadie Sutherland of Madison, Miss Mary Schultz of Lake Mills, Miss Gertrude Sherman of Milwaukee, Dr. Stewart Sheldahl of Portland, Oregon, A. C. Murphy of Evanston, Frank McDowney of Chicago Heights, Dr. E. L. Mason of Eau Claire, Edward and Herbert Holmes of Chicago, and Prof. J. P. A. Pyre of the University of Wisconsin.

Sketches Of Principals.
Mrs. Anna DeRiemer Sutherland is the only child of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Valentine. Janesville is her birthplace and most of her life has been spent in this city. She graduated from the Janesville high school and went to the University of Wisconsin in 1896, taking her degree in 1900. At Madison as well as Janesville she was well-liked by everyone, numbered among her acquaintances and her friends are legion. Dr. Charles Sutherland is a son of Dr. and Mrs. Q. O. Sutherland. His home, like that of his bride, has always been in Janesville. His early school days were spent here and a course in the Beloit college preparatory and college preceded his entrance into the Chicago Homoeopathic college where his record attracted the favorable attention of the faculty and won for him the coveted position of interne in the Cook County hospital for a period of a year and a half. He has since associated himself with his father and a brother in the practice of medicine here. All Janesville wishes this young couple God-speed on a long and happy voyage.

James Bush.
A pretty wedding occurred at "The Oaks," the suburban home of Mr. and Mrs. E. N. James, just north of the city of Beloit yesterday afternoon, when their only daughter, Gertrude, was married to William Bush of this city. The ceremony was performed at two o'clock by Rev. Bosworth of the Beloit Methodist Episcopal church, as the young couple stood in front of a luxuriant bank of ferns, red roses and marguerites in the parlor of the residence. The ring service was used and there were no attendants. The bride was gown in a pretty creation of white Persian lawn and carried a spray of white carnations. About fifty guests were present and after the nuptial vows had been taken luncheon was served. The menu was elaborate and the dining room, beautified with a profusion of roses and carnations, presented a pretty scene. Mr. and Mrs. Bush left on a honeymoon trip for Chicago and points in Michigan and will not return until the latter part of July when they will be at home on Center avenue. Mr. Bush is a fireman on the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railway and a much respected young man. His bride is held in high esteem by her many friends at home and in this city.

Malt Gives Beer Its Food Value

Pabst Blue Ribbon Beer is healthful—it builds up strength, promotes health, aids digestion and acts as a tonic. Perfect beer is possible only with perfect malt, and perfect malt can only be made by the eight-day process used by Pabst.

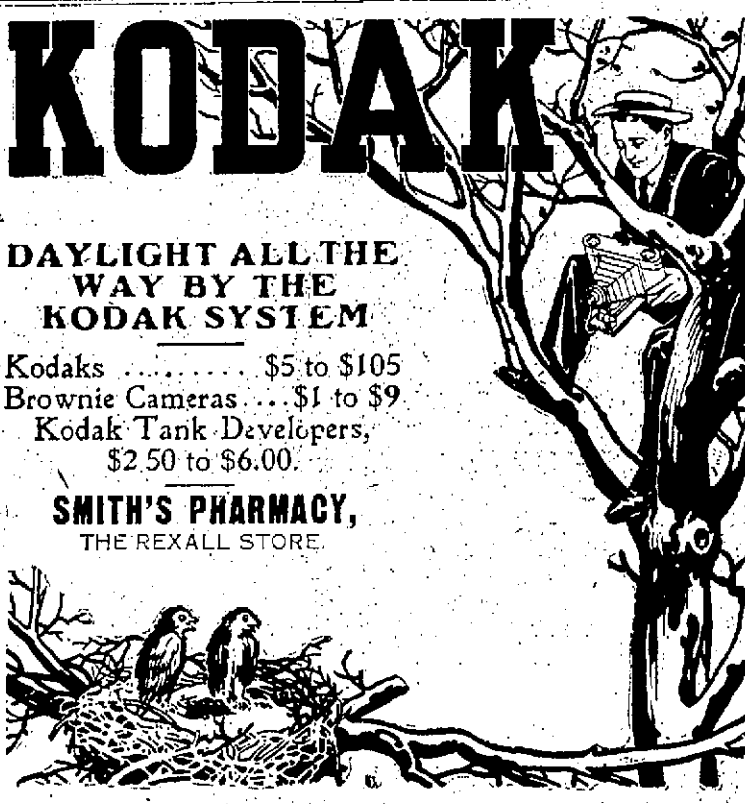

Malt is made from barley. Barley contains in its elementary form the constituents that go to build up the human system, bone, muscle, blood and brain. The Pabst process of making malt is like the process of digestion. The barley is started growing as it is planted in the ground. The changes that take place in the grain when it sprouts are similar to the action of the digestive fluids on the grain if it were eaten. Pabst eight-day process of making malt retains in predigested form in the beer all the nutritious, life-giving elements of the barley.

In many breweries the old shorter process is still used. This covers a period of not more than three or four days and the malt is of forced, unnatural development, lacks in nutrition and is in all ways inferior, much of the vital nutriment of the grain being lost.

Perfect beer, such as Pabst Blue Ribbon, cannot be made from four-day malt. Pabst Beer is this richest in actual food value and strength-building elements because it is made only with Pabst eight-day malt.

Pabst Beer is clean beer, too. From mash tub to keg or bottle it is never touched by human hands and never comes in contact with anything but sterilized machines, sterilized utensils and sterilized air.

of Evansville, and her daughter drove 15 miles to Janesville today to secure the services of Dr. F. T. Richards, who they had heard could extract teeth PAINLESSLY.

Mrs. Murray, in speaking to her son, said, "I've had them all out (nine in number) and they DIDN'T HURT A BIT."

He could hardly believe it, but she soberly affirmed that Dr. Richards did the best of any dentist she ever had work for her.

The daughter also had him work for her and she also said that he DIDN'T HURT.

G. W. HEWITT IS THE CHAMPION

OSHKOSH MAN HAD VOSE 5 DOWN AFTER 18TH HOLE.

CARTER WON THE HANDICAP

From Gordon by 7 Strokes—Morse Was 8 Down to Cavanaugh After 18th Hole in Consolation Finals.

Hewitt Wins
At 3:30 it was announced that Hewitt had won the Wisconsin State Golf Championship 8 up and 6 to play. He magnanimously consented, however, to finish the round. The outcome cannot differ, though the score may.

Hamilton Vose of Milwaukee is matched with G. W. Hewitt of Oshkosh in the 36-hole match play finals.

J. P. BAKER, WHO WON THE FIFTY-YEAR-OLD MEDAL PLAY CHAMPIONSHIP CUP for the golf championship of Wisconsin at the Mississippi links today. Vose was 2 down at the finish of the first nine holes play this morning. He won the first hole in 3, lost the second to Hewitt in 5, halved the third in 5, lost the fourth to Hewitt in 2, won the fifth in 4, halved the sixth in 4, and lost the seventh, eighth, and ninth holes to Hewitt's 4, 5, and 6, respectively. At the seventh hole, in the second round, Hewitt was 4 up. He was 5 up at the finish of the eighteenth hole.

In the 36-hole race between R. H. Cavanaugh of Kenosha and Chester Morse for the consolation cup, which also began this morning Cavanaugh had his Janesville opponent 5 down at the end of the first round of 9 holes and 8 down at the finish of the eighteenth.

Semi-Finals Yesterday
In the semi-finals for the championship yesterday afternoon Vose won his match with Al Schaller by a fine drive and approach for the 21st hole. The contest throughout was close. Schaller being two up after playing four holes, one up after the ninth, the two being even until the seventeenth, when Schaller captured a hole only to lose and pair even at the eighteenth hole and remain so until the finish.

Rain in the morning had caused recumbent and forgotten weeds to stand up and play havoc with all calculations on putting. More than once victory was to either man on a thirty-six inch putt, but they invariably were missed.

The match between Hewitt and J. M. Hixon of La Crosse was hardly less extraordinary. Hixon's bad luck in directing drives, Hewitt candidly admitted, gave the latter the contest. The finish was one up in nineteen holes. Hixon would have won in medal play, his score for eighteen holes being 84 to Hewitt's 86.

In the semi-finals for the consolation cup, R. H. Cavanaugh of Kenosha defeated Morris of Madison eight up and seven to play and Chester Morse of Janesville qualified for the finals by winning from Dr. L. P. Fowle of Milwaukee, eight up and six to play.

"Lady" Champion Here
Mrs. Charles J. Deering of Chicago, a member of Green Lake club and winner of the western women's championship last season, arrived in Janesville yesterday and will be entered in Wisconsin's women's championship contest Friday. Her appearance here has upset all calculations and Miss Elizabeth Morse of Milwaukee and the Oshkosh and Janesville women who are to compete will have a hard contest on their hands.

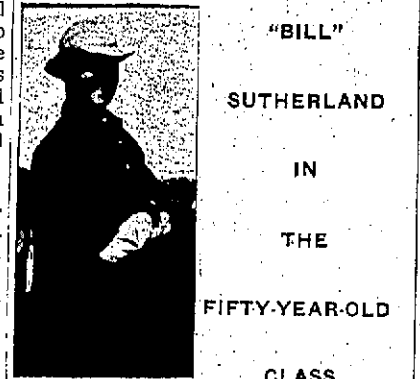

Supper and Dance Tonight

At the clubhouse tonight a supper and dance will be given for the visitors and a delightful time is anticipated. William Evenson, official scorer, was the victim of the only accident which has marred the serene enjoyment of the golfers. While he was cutting a plank for the scoreboard Tuesday he saw struck a nail and jumped cutting his hand near the base of the thumb to the bone. He is bending up bravely under the injury, however.

There was a goodly number of engross score of 82 and a handicap of 8, leaving a net score of 74 was tied with R. Gordon, who had a gross score of 80 with a handicap of 6 and not score 74. The tie was played off

DEVELOPMENTS IN THAW-WHITE CASE

PRISONER REFUSES TO BE EXAMINED BY ALIENISTS.

FIND IMPORTANT WITNESS

Man Overheard Remarks Made by White in the Cafe Martin Which Were Derogatory to Evelyn Nesbit Thaw.

New York, June 28.—That Harry K. Thaw, the slayer of Stanford White, is perfectly sane was the report made by the alienists retained by the district attorney's office to examine into the prisoner's mental condition. This report was made after the physicians had spent an hour with Thaw, who, in defiance of the advice of his counsel, former Judge Olcott, refused to answer any questions and declared that nothing short of actual force would compel him to submit to a physical examination.

When the committee of physicians called upon the prisoner, Thaw said firmly, as the first member was introduced to him by Dr. Allan McLane Hamilton, retained for the defense: "I beg your pardon; I will answer no questions whatever."

Then began a general conversation on trivial subjects with Dr. Austin Flint and Dr. Hamilton, Thaw deftly parrying any questions that had any bearing on his mental or physical condition. Finding him obdurate, the doctors hurriedly summoned Mr. Olcott, but to him Thaw vehemently reiterated his determination to answer no questions.

Says Nerves Are Unstrung. "You can put it down to the condition of my feelings, if you will," said Thaw. "My nerves are unstrung, the tension is great. I will not be examined to-day."

Pressed for a clearer explanation of his refusal, he said:

"I haven't any; I have none at all. Put it down to obstinacy, if you wish."

He had promised Mr. Olcott before the examiners met to submit to the examination.

"This refusal will hurt you," Mr. Olcott is said to have pleaded.

"I don't care. Nothing but absolute force will get me to allow myself to be examined or to say anything to-day. I think I first ought to talk with Dr. Hamilton and then have a talk with Mr. Deland. Later I will tell you whether I will talk with the committee or not."

Mr. Olcott said later that he was unable to account for Thaw's attitude and that he could only attribute to unaccountable obstinacy. As his counsel, he said, he had no objection to Thaw's answering any of the questions addressed to him by the physicians.

Wife Visits Prisoner.

After the alienists had departed Mrs. Thaw was permitted to see her husband for the first time since his arrest. She came to the Tombs in a carriage accompanied by her husband's brother, Josiah C. Thaw. The meeting between husband and wife was affectionate and they remained together talking in an undertone for nearly an hour. Thaw also received a visit from his sister, Mrs. George C. Carnegie, and Clifford W. Hart, of Pittsburgh.

Before visiting the Tombs Mrs. Thaw had a long conference with former Judge Olcott and Frederick Deland, at which it is believed that the line of defense was discussed and the intention to interpose a plea of insanity was confirmed.

When asked about the letters from White, which Mrs. Thaw turned over to Mr. Deland, Mr. Olcott said that he believed they would be of material value to the defense. Further than this he declined to comment on the case.

Coroner Dooley announced that the inquest would not be merely a formal proceeding to establish the cause of White's death, but that all available witnesses would be examined for the purpose of fixing the crime on Thaw, in order that he might be held for the action of the grand jury.

Will Not Call Mrs. Thaw.

Mrs. Thaw will not appear at the inquest, and it was said that in all probability she would not be required to appear before the grand jury, in which case her testimony will not be taken until the trial. In the meantime the district attorney's office will prosecute a most searching investigation of the habits and movements of Thaw and White during a period of several weeks previous to the tragedy.

No less than 20 witnesses were examined in connection with the case by the district attorney's office Wednesday. Among the most prominent of these was Thaw's valet, William Bedford, who has been in his service for six years and is believed to be conversant with the events which are supposed to have been the immediate incentive to the crime.

Discovers Important Witness.

It was announced at the office of the district attorney that Dr. Garvin, who is preparing the case against Thaw, had discovered a witness who alleged that he overheard White make derogatory remarks concerning Mrs. Thaw while in the Cafe Martin a few hours before he was shot. According to the witness, whose name is concealed for the present, he heard the remarks of White, who was seated two or three tables away, and evidently was not whispering. At that time Mr. and Mrs. Thaw were in the cafe dining.
